Harvey Sloane Tells Rotarians:

Government Needs Private Participation

By LOWELL ATCHLEY
Staff Reporter

Government is limited in its capacity to effect change without a partnership with the private sector, Dr. Harvey Sloane told over 200 Murray Rotarians and their wives Thursday night.

Speaking at an annual Rotary husband-wife banquet at Kenlake State Park, Aurora, Sloane said it is that government-private partnership that brings results.

The 41-year-old medical doctor and ex-mayor of Louisville called politics "an honorable profession" and told Rotarians, "Whether it's president of the Rotary, serving on the city council, or a deacon in the church, if you don't participate, your communities will suffer."

Sloane is actively seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, although he hasn't made a formal announcement yet. He served a Louisville mayor from 1973-1977.

"I have about 130 cottages in Jefferson County in coming weeks. After that I plan to start campaigning in the state exclusively after April. On a full time basis, I hope to campaign in every county in the state in 1978," Sloane told the Murray Ledger & Times.

A grass roots organization carried Sloane to the Louisville mayor's office in 1973 by one of the widest vote margins in that city's history. Sloane said he plans to firm his Louisville political base and start from there.

"My strategy will be no different regardless of who jumps into the race. I plan to run a positive campaign," Sloane said.

Sloane called for improving medical services throughout the state. He said that economic development and education will be important issues in his campaign.

"While in office I tried everything I could to include the responsiveness of the people," Sloane told Rotarians. He mentioned his "neighborhood walks" through Louisville. "Those allowed me to stay in touch with the people day in and day out," he said.

Sloane mentioned a number of Louisville programs started during his administration which he called "partnerships with the people" — implementation of the city's first professional emergency medical service, creation of the Transit Authority of River City (TARC), the Neighborhood Development Office and revitalization of Louisville's downtown area.

Sloane told Rotarians that government "seems rather arrogant" often when dealing with the public.

"Another trait that we sometimes develop is self pity," Sloane said. "I fell into that state of bemoaning all the late nights, abuses from the press, until one day my wife reminded me that I wanted the job!"

Murray Rotarians Thursday night marked their 54th anniversary as a club.

Rotarians gave special recognition to two exchange students on Rotary scholarships, Catherine Lewis, Perth, Australia, a Rotary exchange student attending Marshall County High, and Marta Adriano, Fort Aleza, Brazil, a Murray State University junior majoring in computer science who is on a Rotary Foundation Fellowship.

Governor Julian Carroll Signs 237 Bills Into Law, Vetos Four, Takes Vacation

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Julian Carroll wound up the 10-day period allowed for vetoes of legislation by signing 237 bills and vetoing four. Then he left the state for a Florida vacation.

The governor began signing the last batch of bills at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, and took just one 10-minute time-out in two hours, averaging less than 30 seconds a bill.

Eleven of the 444 measures passed by the 1978 General Assembly will become law without Carroll's signature.

Carroll vetoed a bill to allow some youthful offenders to be tried as adults for serious and violent crimes. The governor said the state Human Resources Department advised him that the measure could cost the state about $4.6 million in federal funds over the next two fiscal years.

Carroll also vetoed a bill to allow members of the General Assembly covered by the teachers' retirement system to apply part of their legislative salaries toward retirement benefits. Carroll vetoed the measure after retirement system officials said an amendment to the bill would make a shambles of the system. Carroll said the measure as amended would have expanded the system's unfunded liability.

The governor also vetoed:

—A bill to establish a state advisory board for day care centers and homes, because it mandates that three-fourths of the board members represent the day care industry. Carroll said the board would in effect regulate itself, which is not in the public interest.

—The appropriation section of a bill requiring the creation of programs dealing with student absenteeism and delinquency. Carroll said the $350,000 appropriation for the new law was included in his budget.

Carroll did not sign a resolution calling for a constitutional convention to enact an antiabortion amendment to the U.S. Constitution, so the message will go to Congress unsigned.

Bills that will become law without the governor's signature include one to require the Ten Commandments to be posted in all public schoolrooms in the state; a measure to allow small restaurants to obtain special wine licenses; two proposed constitutional amendments to allow up to four amendments to be submitted to the voters at one time and to change the election date of members of the General Assembly, and a bill to allow individuals to have police radios in their homes.

Also scheduled to become effective without Carroll's stamp of approval are a measure to allow persons 15 and a half-years-old to obtain a driver's license; a bill to increase legislators' pay; a measure to permit Sunday racing of thoroughbreds and apalosas, and a bill making an appropriation for the operation of the Legislative Research Commission.

Pre-Registration

Set At Murray City

Elementary Schools

Pre-registration for students who will be entering Murray Elementary School Kindergarten and First Grade for the 1978-79 school year will be held in the gym at Robertson School on Wednesday, April 5, and Thursday, April 6, from 1:00-4:00 p.m.

If parents are unable to attend on these dates, registration will be accepted by telephone after April 6, 1978, according to Mary Ryan, principal.

Since the Murray Board of Education voted on March 23, 1978 to implement the re-organization of the Murray elementary schools, this means that all Kindergartners and First Graders will be attending school at Robertson School for the 1978-79 school year, Mrs. Ryan said.

Representatives from both Carter and Robertson P.T.A.'s will be present to assist with registration.

Circuit Court Has New Payment Policy

Personal checks are acceptable as cash. In most cases they are, except when it comes time to make some payments to the office of Calloway County Circuit Court and Calloway County District Court.

Due to new Kentucky court system regulations, both offices aren't accepting personal checks for some forms of payment, says Frances Shea, Calloway County Circuit Court clerk.

The new system has led to some misunderstanding from persons who have business in the offices.

Mrs. Shea, in a recent interview, said that under the new court system, operated by the state Administrative Office of the Courts, worthless checks accepted by a clerk of the court will come out of the clerk's paycheck, instead of the state court system absorbing the loss.

"Under the fee system before worthless checks were written off on the state's annual audits. But, now cold checks come out of my salary. The clerk no recourse for collecting," Mrs. Shea said.

The circuit clerk said the office of circuit clerk lost over $1,600 last year to bad checks.

The circuit clerk emphasized "the state is not in the position of being a collection agency."

Under new rules for both the circuit court clerk's office and the office of the district court, accepted forms of payment include cash, bank drafts, money orders. Personal checks are acceptable for prepayment of a fine for non-appearance traffic citations, from a recognized firm for a garnishment payment, on condemnation suits, for filing fees, provided the attorney pays with his own check.

"The clerk may accept personal checks in other areas, but he will be personally liable for collection if the check is bad," the rules state.

Mrs. Shea said "practically every circuit clerk in the state" is using the personal check policy.

"I'm concerned and sorry that I can't accept personal checks for business conducted at the office of the district court and circuit courts," Mrs. Shea said. "However, it seems unfair that I should be held liable for bad checks when so many of them can never be collected. It may appear that the new system is harsh in some ways, however, since its inception on Jan. 2 of this year it has proven to be a good working system." The circuit court clerk said that with continued cooperation of the citizens of the county the system will continue to become an even better one.

Three Buildings Destroyed In Fires Thursday

Volunteers with Calloway County Fire-Rescue Squad fought two back-to-back structure fires Thursday afternoon which threatened adjacent buildings.

Both fires, reported within a span of about half an hour, left two outbuildings destroyed at separate locations — one on the Airport Road (KY 783) and another at Stella.

The two fires marked three the department fought Thursday. A blaze about 1:30 a.m. Thursday destroyed the wood frame home of Mike Parker located about four miles west of Almo on KY 464. The department went to the scene of the fire again Thursday to extinguish a tree that apparently ignited from the smoldering house. Cause of the fire was unknown.

Department volunteers fought a blaze about 1 p.m. Thursday that left a storage shed destroyed and adjacent block building damaged on a farm belonging to Johnny Collins on Airport Road. Fred Patton called the fire in, the department spokesman said. Firefighters cooled the building and kept the flames from spreading to a barn.

The fire apparently erupted from a tobacco bed area being burned, witnesses said.

Another fire destroyed a storage shed at the residence of Masing Rhea at Stella about 1:30 p.m. Thursday. Firemen also kept that fire from spreading to a nearby structure. Exact cause of that blaze was unknown.

Mike and Brenda Parker, whose home and contents were destroyed by fire about midnight Wednesday, will be honored at a shower to be held at the home of Lynn Crafton, 205½ North Tenth Street, Murray, from two to four p.m. All relatives and friends are invited, Mrs. Crafton said.

The couple was awakened to find the house in flames, and were barely able to escape from the house. Mrs. Parker, the former Brenda Collie, daughter of Mrs. Obid Burken, was hospitalized following the fire but is expected to be released today.

Celebration Honors Lowly Sweet Potato

BENTON, Ky. — Tater Day, the only known celebration in the nation honoring the lowly sweet potato, is Monday, April 3.

But, a whirl of activities leading up to the holiday here are slated throughout the weekend.

Organized in 1843, Tater Day -1978 marks the 135th for this town of about 6,000 in Marshall County.

Benton Kiwanis Club sponsors the event each year.

Preliminary events include a four wheel drive pull and Miss Tater Day Pageant, with a grand finale Monday — the annual Tater Day Parade down the streets of Benton.

Spliced between Friday and Monday are a host of activities, geared for the young and old alike.

Oldsters here say Tater Day grew from an annual "trade day" every spring. Among those attending the trade were farmers from surrounding communities who brought sweet potato plants to town for sale.

A four wheel drive drag race will kick off Tater Day weekend this year. Mayfield Four Wheelers Club is sponsoring the event, set at 8 p.m. today at the Benton City Park grandstand.

On Saturday at noon the Sportman's Pony Pulling Association will sponsor the annual pony pulling contest, also at the Benton City Park grandstand.

Miss-Kentucky, Benton's Karen Gordon, will be mistress of ceremonies for the annual Miss Tater Day Pageant Saturday night, beginning at 8 p.m., in the Benton Junior High gym. Some 40 contestants will be competing in the pageant with a crown, trophy and $100 prize going to the winner. Miss Tater Day will preside over the Tater Day parade Monday.

A flea market is scheduled at the Bank of Marshall County's parking lot Sunday and Monday afternoon. "Monday will find the square full of backsters selling their wares, all sorts of groups selling goodies, and game operators," a spokesman said.

Tater Day parade is slated to start Monday at 10:30 a.m. at the corner of Dogtown Road and Poplar in Benton. Every year the parade features floats, high school bands from surrounding towns, antique cars, marching groups and horses. Ell Ford, a Marshall County resident, will serve as this year's parade grand marshal. Parade trophies will be awarded "best float," "most unusual participant," and "prettiest horse."

Marshall County Chamber of Commerce will be in charge of parade judging and has requested that persons planning to enter the parade, contact the chamber of commerce office at 527-7665 for pre-registration.

A horse and mule pulling contest is slated at noon Monday, also in the city park grandstand. Trophies and cash awards go to class winners. Amusement rides are also expected to operate in the city park area throughout the weekend.

COOLING BLAZE — A volunteer firefighter with Calloway County Fire-Rescue Squad is shown "cooling" a blaze on a farm on Airport Road Thursday afternoon. The fire was one of three structure fires early Thursday morning and later in the afternoon. A shower is planned for one family whose house was destroyed by fire Thursday.

Making ice cream drumsticks at home

Ice cream cones, given this fanciful chocolate 'n' walnut cuff, are too good to pass up. Over hot water slowly melt one cup semi-sweet real chocolate pieces with one and one-half teaspoons vegetable oil. Using a spoon, spread chocolate outside the top third of sugar or regular cones. Sprinkle generously with finely chopped walnuts. Place upside down on a plate and chill to set, about 15 minutes, or until you're ready to fill cones with a favorite ice cream. Makes 16 party-size treats. Extras or make-aheads freeze nicely.

Be honest with yourself! You know things about yourself no one else knows. You see things in your life no one else sees.

Self-deception is one of the most subtle, deceitful, and undetected forms of self-destruction. The self-deceived person makes himself or herself believe a lie. But, it goes even beyond that! The self-deceived person believes that lie to be the truth! It is most difficult to dislodge an erroneous concept or view from a self-deceived person. (Proverbs 14:12)

It is better to honestly look within and be truthful with oneself, and not like what one sees, than it is to look within and see a mirage or, worse still, refuse to look because you already know you aren't going to like what you see. So many people would see immediate improvement in their ability to cope with life, if they would stop playing games with themselves.

Self-recognition and self-honesty is the first giant step. Self-determination is needed to make additional "truth" stops in coping with his or her life.

Words of practical wisdom come from the heart of our Creator when He says, "...deny yourself" for the Lordship of Christ. (Matthew 16:24; Galatians 2:20) Also, when He says, "Examine yourselves..." (II Corinthians 13:5) We must be honest and open with ourselves instead of hiding in the faults, weaknesses, and failures of others.

It's the greatest thing in the world to be a Christian.

She's Just a Child! Don't Make a Move

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 32-year-old professional man, single and never married. I recently became attracted to a very pretty girl who works at a fast-food counter, and I could tell she liked me. I asked for six pieces of fish and she gave me eight. The next day she gave me change for a five dollar bill when I gave her a one.

After talking to her today, I found out that she's only a junior in high school. Could I get into any trouble if I asked her out? (I read that Dostoevski married an 18-year-old girl when he was 50 and they had a wonderful marriage.) I need your answer before I make any moves.

BILL

DEAR BILL: Never mind what Dostoevski did; that was 100 years ago. The schoolgirl to whom you are attracted either can't count or she's giving her boss's store away. If you are planning any "moves," I advise you to move in the direction of a girl closer to your own age.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently moved here from another state, and quite by accident we learned that my husband has a niece in a private institution within half an hour's drive from our house. (I'll call this niece "Nellie.") Naturally we went to visit Nellie at once, after which we phoned her mother (my husband's eldest sister) to tell her we had seen her daughter.

Nellie's mother objected strenuously to our visiting Nellie. She said the girl has been a "hopeless vegetable" since birth (she is now 28 years old) and it would have been much better had we left the family skeleton in the closet where it belonged instead of digging it up! (We ignored her wishes and continued to visit Nellie.)

Abby, in the few months we've been visiting her, she has learned to recognize us and seems so happy to see us. The head doctor there told us that Nellie has improved physically since we've been giving her our love and attention. He has even let us take her home on Sundays.

The problem is Nellie's mother. She has asked us to stay away from her daughter. She pays for her support, but hasn't visited her once!

Should we continue seeing Nellie in spite of her mother's objections?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I can see only good resulting from your visits, and I would continue to give Nellie as much love and attention as you possibly can.

DEAR ABBY: My husband recently died. I think it would have been nice if the doctor who had taken care of him during his illness had sent some kind of condolence message, don't you. Or don't doctors believe in that?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: If the patient was only a patient, all the doctor sends is his bill. If the patient has been a personal friend, the doctor would send his condolences and a bill.

Let's Stay Well

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Mumps And Diabetes Mellitus

Q: Mrs. B. D. writes that she has heard of a person having a severe case of mumps, which brought on sugar diabetes. She wants to know if this is possible.

A: The mumps virus is potentially a dangerous cause of infection. It may result in a systemic involvement not only of the salivary glands (giving the typical soreness and swelling on the sides of the face and under the jaw), but also of the brain, pancreas, testicle or ovary.

The resulting inflammation of the brain (encephalitis) may kill off enough cells in the inner brain (diencephalon) to precipitate the onset of diabetes mellitus. Certain cells in this portion of the brain control the function of the pancreas in its formation of insulin. In addition, the infection of the pancreas may damage and kill out certain cells (islands of Langerhans), which are responsible for the production of insulin. The deficiency of insulin, whether from the effects on the brain or directly on the pancreas, results in diabetes mellitus.

The deficiency may be managed by diet or may require supplemental injections of insulin, depending on the severity.

While mumps may be referred to lightly, it is an illness that not only is quite uncomfortable and distressing, but is potentially very harmful.

Sources of Vitamin C

Q: Ms. G. P. asks whether the vitamin C content in orange juice concentrate is preserved by the freezing or whether it is preferable to use the juice of fresh oranges. She notes that fresh oranges have become expensive.

A: Vitamin C is quite stable, especially when it is kept at temperatures below 50 F. Therefore, the concentrate is a reliable source of vitamin C.

Of course, vitamin C (ascorbic acid) is a rather simple chemical and can be compounded artificially to make a cheap, but adequate, source of this essential vitamin.

Vitamin C is available in tablet form. It has to be taken with fair regularity because our bodies cannot store up a reserve supply of this vitamin and cannot make it from other foods.

Remember, other fruits and vegetables are also rich sources of vitamin C, such as lemons, limes, green peppers, tomatoes and tomato juice and cranberries.

Life In The Fellowship

By H.C. Chiles

Fellowship is the intimate association of two or more people on a friendly basis. It involves reciprocal knowledge, love, and endeavor. When Christians are united in their devotion to Christ, their testimony for Him will be effective and their influence will be wholesome.

Acts 4:32-35

The membership of the church in Jerusalem was characterized by a marvelous spiritual unity. In it there was a great variety of temperaments, dispositions, and capabilities, but the members were of "one heart and of one soul." They were victorious over self-seeking, jealousy, distrust, ill-will, and strife. Their sharing was voluntary, except as they were prompted by the Holy Spirit.

At every opportunity the members of that church gave personal testimony of what the Lord had done for them. As a result of their being filled with and energized by the Holy Spirit, their faithful testimony for Christ was very effective.

One of the noble and lovable members who demonstrated remarkable love and great generosity was Barnabas, a Jew and native of Cyprus, who had considerable means. In harmony with the decision of the church to place all possessions at the command of the apostles, Barnabas sold his land and brought all of the proceeds and laid them at the feet of the apostles. Thus his liberality was expressed in deed, and not in pious words or promises only. Both his life and his possessions were dedicated to the Lord, and the latter were distributed by the apostles on the basis of need.

Acts 5:1-11

So concerned and generous was Barnabas that he sold his property and contributed all of the proceeds obtained therefrom for distribution to the needy brethren. This unselfish and generous act resulted in Barnabas becoming the recipient of considerable appreciation, honor, and praise.

Desirous of obtaining similar honor and praise for themselves, Ananias and Sapphira decided to likewise. However, their motive for doing so was selfish and, for that reason, was unworthy of emulation or commendation.

Complying with the suggestion of Satan, Ananias and Sapphira agreed to sell their property, to pretend that they were placing the entire proceeds of the sale in the hands of the apostles, and to keep back part of the price. This whole procedure was planned in advance and both were equally guilty.

This avaricious couple made and executed their plan with all the secrecy possible, and without the least expectation that their transaction would ever become public knowledge. Their effort to deceive the members of the church was exposed promptly. They had not deceived anybody except themselves.

Peter's inquiry as to why Ananias had allowed Satan to convince him that he could do such a thing and get by with it, shocked him. Through the exercise of divine power Ananias collapsed and died. Before Sapphira was notified that Ananias had died young men buried her husband. About three hours later, she arrived on the scene, was interrogated by Peter, who immediately pronounced her doom, and then she died instantly. The destruction of this couple was sudden, severe, supernatural and solemnizing. It is not surprising that great fear came upon the members of that church and upon all who heard what had happened.

Inside Report

By Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

The Fireproof Secretary

WASHINGTON — The White House refusal to help Patricia Roberts Harris, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), dump a bureaucratic antagonist has angered liberals and intensified the cold war inside the Carter administration.

Immediately at stake is whether Mrs. Harris takes over the Federal National Mortgage Assn. (Fannie Mae) — a federally chartered corporation which supports the housing market by buying commercial mortgages. But much more is involved. Backed by both civil servants and political appointees at HUD, Mrs. Harris is a throwback to Great Society liberalism of the 1960s which believed Uncle Sam and his checkbook could solve all problems.

Jimmy Carter, considerably less certain than Pat Harris about most things, does not share that faith in government. There is, then, an internal conflict over both style and ideology between White House policymakers and departmental policy executives — particularly at HUD. But the President will not wield a hatchet. Mr. Carter is never inclined to fire anybody, and even if he were it certainly would not be the Secretary of HUD. Black and female, Mrs. Harris is fireproof.

Stylistic differences overshadowed ideological differences when Mrs. Harris's struggle with Fannie Mae began over a year ago. A prominent Washington lawyer before entering the cabinet, she had served as a well-qualified director for several companies eager for public display of blacks and females. So she was shocked to find Fannie Mae's 10 stockholder directors were all white males.

It was not what Mrs. Harris did next but how she did it. In her tough-gal style, she demanded that Oakley Hunter, chairman of Fannie Mae, integrate his board, sexually and racially. Hunter, a 61-year-old conservative Republican who served as a Congressman from California 25 years ago, was nonplussed. Stunned by what he considered a personal insult, he gave not an inch.

The personality clash quickly became ideological. HUD claimed Fannie Mae under Republican Hunter was refusing to buy risky inner-city mortgages, a claim refuted by Fannie Mae and the housing industry. In no time, HUD had sufficient grounds to demand Hunter's ouster. The President himself agreed to look into it. Ambassador Robert Strauss, the administration's peripatetic Mr. Fixit, tried to get Hunter quietly to resign. Failing that, one course remained: sack Hunter.

But to HUD's astonishment, the White House blocked the way by finding no grounds for firing Hunter. That recommendation came from a 32-year-old White House domestic policy aide named Orrin Kramer who is now regarded as Benedict Arnold at HUD (in the words of one HUD official, "that little creep"). "I'm not going to let this turn into another Marston affair," Kramer told friends. "My job is to protect the President."

That desire is incomprehensible to HUD bureaucrats who could not care less for Jimmy Carter's political hide. Moreover, while HUD and Mrs. Harris seek wider bureaucratic frontiers, in a style harking back to Lyndon Johnson, by taking over Fannie Mae, Mr. Carter's men are more concerned about the housing industry in an uncertain economy.

The difference extends beyond Fannie Mae. The Harris team at HUD is frustrated by what it considers meatax budget slashes by Mr. Carter's Office of Management and Budget (OMB). "We are dealing with a bunch of conservatives, including a conservative President," a bitter Harris advisor told us. Carter aides believe HUD is living in a long-gone Great Society, submitting budgets that begged for the meatax.

Mr. Carter selected Mrs. Harris for the cabinet without knowing whether her style or ideology were faintly similar to his own. Having picked in haste, he can repent in leisure — for there is no chance of firing her. Her status among black leaders, organized labor and in Congress wrap her in asbestos.

Accordingly, some worried Harris supporters see the White House refusal to dump Oakley Hunter as a prod to force out Mrs. Harris. In fact, however, that presupposes determination of purpose and constancy of intent generally lacking at the White House. Moreover, Mrs. Harris has her own friends there. A few liberal presidential aides share HUD's position on both Fannie Mae and urban spending. Some soft-spoken Georgians assert an admiration for Mrs. Harris's abrasiveness. The President himself tries to convince key advisers how happy he is about HUD's secretary.

Nevertheless, the overriding mood among policymakers is impatience with Mrs. Harris. In the latest bureaucratic infighting, HUD is issuing regulations to control Fannie Mae and

Isn't It The Truth

In these times of money manipulation across the seas, it is not how much a dollar is worth in London, Zurich, Paris or Bonn, but how to get hold of one right here—which is to say, money helps a man fall to sleep with a smile on his face.

Atchley's Angle

By Lowell Atchley

Joe Hall For Governor?

Joe B. Hall may have a building named after him.

That's the latest word from a University of Kentucky committee set up to name a university building, in this case, a half million dollar basketball dorm on the UK campus.

A committee for Naming University Buildings has recommended the dorm be named after Hall, who after guiding the University of Kentucky Wildcats to its fifth NCAA basketball crown Monday night, is probably the nation's best known Kentuckian at the moment.

Hall survived a rigorous season, a season filled with pressure throughout from being rated number one most of the season, pressure from the fans who not only expected the Cats to win, but to win big.

But, now Hall has survived the season. The Cats are at the mecca of college basketball and Hall is the sweet son of Kentucky.

Hall should run for governor in 1979. I'm not pushing the Joe B. Hall for Governor plank on his coaching abilities alone. Although it is obvious he has certain leadership abilities.

Right now he's bringing more notoriety to the state than Terry McBrayer, George Atkins, Carroll Hubbard or Thelma Stovall, or whoever else you care to mention as possible candidates for governor at this stage.

It's Hall's low-keyed, glib personality that wins him my vote. He doesn't take life for granted. He's a realist. If his squad played lousy during the season, and there were occasions, he said so. When the Cats thoroughly devastated Southern Methodist early in the season, Hall chewed out his reserves for blowing a 20 point or so lead. When the Cats won by 10, Hall talked as if the game was a 30 point loss. A 20 point spread brought a few accolades. Thirty points was good for a few laurels here and there.

If Hall decides to run for governor, he needs to make his announcement before the beginning of next basketball season. If he's still coaching, one loss could mean losing thousands of votes.

With Hall's coaching abilities, best exemplified throughout the NCAA tournaments, he should engineer a victory and win the governor's job.

Let's have any reservations about running for governor, he should remember the pressures of running the state of Kentucky are nothing to match, running the University of Kentucky basketball team.

The first Hall-the-Governor news conference could go something like this:

"Mr. Hall. Can you comment on your victory margin?" a reporter asks.

"I'll give my opponent a lot of credit," Hall says. "He was ahead in the early going. We were lucky to be a few votes ahead at midnight. After I took the early lead I almost blew it a couple of times there. ... A later surge in returns, finally assured the victory."

"But, coach. ... Er. ... Mr. Hall, you won over 75 percent of the votes," the reporter stammers.

"I know, but a couple of late returns here and there and it could have been different."

Another reporter asks about cabinet heads.

"I have a few names in mind," he says. "And I know one thing, if these guys are going to play on my team, they'll have to hustle. ... I tolerate no loafing in practice. They'll need the winning attitude. I can't get out there and whip them up and down the floor. ... Another question."

A reporter asks what he expects in his four years as governor.

"The games with the federal government will be tough. They have an outstanding center in Jimmy Carter. And at home, I expect the state legislature to give us some, tough competition. They're greatly improved from two years ago. ... The reporters scratch their heads."

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, March 31, the 90th day of 1978. There are 275 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1854, the first treaty between the United States and Japan was signed. Two Japanese ports were opened to trade with the outside world.

On this date:

In 1889, the Eiffel Tower was opened in Paris.

In 1917, the United States took possession of the American Virgin Islands after their purchase from Denmark.

In 1943, in World War II, American bombers pounded the shipyards at Rotterdam in the Netherlands.

In 1953, Dag Hammarskjöld of Sweden was elected secretary-general of the United Nations.

Ten years ago: President Lyndon Johnson declared: "I shall not seek and I will not accept the nomination of my party as president."

Five years ago: South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu left for Washington to seek assurance that the United States would underwrite the survival of a non-Communist South Vietnam.

One year ago: A friendship treaty was signed by the Soviet Union and the former Portuguese territory of Mozambique.

Today's birthdays: Former High Commissioner for Germany John McCloy is 83 years old. Entertainer Henry Morgan is 63.

Thought for today: There's one kind of tax that would win universal approval — a tax on the other person — anonymous.

HEARTLINE

Heartline is a service for senior citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems — fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write Heartline, 114 East Dayton Street, West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. You will receive a prompt reply, but you must include a stamped self-addressed envelope. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: I am a 67-year-old widow. I receive my deceased husband's Social Security and a portion of his company's pension. I also have a daughter who lives a couple of hundred miles away from me. I would like to visit with her, but it is too far to drive and flying puts a crimp on my budget and I do not like the long bus ride. Do you have any suggestions for me? J.C.

A: A law passed Feb. 22, 1977 by President Carter may be your ticket for an inexpensive vacation with your daughter. This law allows airlines to offer reduced air fares on a space available basis for handicapped and older passengers.

Several airlines have already made proposals to the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) for discounts for older and handicapped persons. Presently, the CAB has approved proposals by Allegheny and Continental Airlines for one-third off discount fares — on a stand-by basis — for persons 65 years of age and older. To be eligible, individuals must purchase special identification cards, which cost $20 and are valid for two years from the two airlines.

For people receiving these air fare reductions, there is no minimum or maximum time to stay at your destination. And the discounts are effective throughout the year except during peak holiday periods.

HEARTLINE: I sent in my claim recently for pathology services, and Medicare did not pay 100 per cent of the charges. The Medicare handbook through Social Security says that Medicare should pay 100 per cent of pathology and radiology services. C.W.

A: You evidently misunderstood what you read. The HEW Medicare handbook says that Medicare will pay 100 per cent of reasonable charges for pathology and radiology services, not 100 per cent of the charges. "Reasonable" means 80 per cent or 100 per cent of what the Medicare carrier decides that the doctor should have charged — a reasonable charge for a given service.

Let's say that the doctor charges $100 for a certain service. The Medicare carrier decides that $100 is not reasonable, that the doctor should have charged $80. So the percentage the Medicare carrier will pay is 80 per cent of $80.

Heartline has developed a simplified book on Medicare. To order Heartline's Guide to Medicare, send $1.75 to Heartline, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. Please allow six weeks for delivery.

HEARTLINE: Can you tell me anything about the lump sum death benefit that is paid to the survivors? Can anyone receive it or just a husband or wife? I.C.

A: Anyone can receive the lump sum death payment, limited to $255 or to the amount of funeral expenses if less, unless the spouse of the deceased was living with the deceased at the time of death. This surviving spouse receives the payment regardless of who actually pays the expenses. In such cases, it is considered a benefit to the survivor and not a reimbursement of burial expense.

HEARTLINE: I have read in the paper where a person's Civil Service pension will now reduce any Social Security spouse's benefit. I am drawing my railroad retirement benefits and my wife is presently working for the city government. Will the Civil Service pensions reduce the railroad retirement spouse's benefit? N.B.

A: Yes. But for the most part, annuity reductions for public pensions do not apply to individuals retiring in the next five years. Non-dependent husbands and widowers who apply for annuities since December 1977 will be subject to such reductions. However, annuitants on the rolls as of November 1977 continue to receive their annuities without any reduction for public pensions. Nor does the reduction apply to wives, widows, dependent husbands and dependent widowers who are now eligible, or become eligible, for public pensions or civil service pensions before December 1982, regardless of when they begin receiving railroad retirement or Social Security spouse or widow(er)'s benefits.

Dear Editor:
Just a quick note to say thank you for the fairness and objectivity you showed us during the recent controversy over funding for this office.

Writer Picks Royals As Team To Beat In AL West Division

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

Can the stand-pat Kansas City Royals hold off the challenge of the free-spending Texas Rangers and California Angels in the American League West?

"It seems to get tougher and tougher each year," says Manager Whitey Herzog, who has piloted the Royals to consecutive division titles, only to lose to the New York Yankees each time in the ninth inning of the fifth and final playoff game.

"But now," he adds, "it looks like the '78 race may be the toughest yet."

The Royals didn't go after any of the expensive free agents, but they did get relief ace Al Hrabosky in a trade with the St. Louis Cardinals. And they have a pair of rookies who could crack a set lineup — center fielder Willie Wilson and outfielder-first baseman Clint Hurdle.

Kansas City's basic strength is the players who have won more than 90 games three years in a row. The set positions are Al Cowens in right, George Brett at third, Fred Patek at short, Frank White at second, Darrell Porter catching and Hal McRae as the designated hitter.

But they may lack for pitching depth unless Andy Hassler develops some consistency to go with Dennis Leonard, Jim Colborn and Paul Splittorff in the regular rotation. Hrabosky and Doug Bird provide a strong lefty-righty bullpen.

But Texas has almost as many backers as new players. The Rangers added slugging outfielders Al Oliver and Richie Zisk and pitchers Jon Matlack, Ferguson Jenkins and Doc Medich.

"We will present a strong lineup on a daily basis and we figure to have strong pitching," says Manager Billy Hunter, who led the Rangers to a pennant-winning .645 pace after he took over.

The pitching will have a decided New York flavor. Doyle Alexander, Dock Ellis and Medich are ex-Yankees, Matlack an ex-Met. Paul Lindblad is the bullpen ace, but watch a youngster named Len Barker, who struck out seven of 10 Boston batters he faced in one 1977 game.

Rifled-armed Jim Sundberg, the Gold Glove catcher, is a vastly improved hitter and the infield is set with Mike Hargrove at first, Bump Wills at second, Bert Campaneris at short and Toby Harrah at third. Zisk will be the DH with Oliver, Juan Beniquez and Claudell Washington from left to right in the outfield.

Despite last year's fifth-place finish, California Manager Dave Garcia says this year's edition is "the best team ever to represent the Angels."

Outfielder Joe Rudi and second baseman Bobby Grich are back from crippling injuries that produced much of last year's disappointment. Rudi will be joined in the outfield by free agent Lyman Bostock, who finished second to Minnesota teammate Rod Carew in the batting race with a .336 average, and rookie sensation Ken Landreaux or free agent Rick Miller.

Few teams have as exciting as 1-2 pitching punch as Nolan Ryan and Frank Tanana. The rest of the rotation will come from Paul Hartzell, Ken Brett, Chris Knapp and Don Aase.

Slugging outfielder Bobby Bonds, who came from California and becomes a free agent next fall, is this year's rent-a-star for Bill Veech's third-place Chicago White Sox, who lost Zisk and Oscar Gamble, their two top home-run hitters, in the re-entry draft.

Bonds had more homers and runs batted in than anyone on last year's club and also stole 41 bases. The White Sox as a team swiped just 42. Ralph Garr and Chet Lemon, both fast, will likely join Bonds in the outfield, and there's even more speed in promising Thad Bosley, who came with Bonds in the trade with the Angels. Ron Blomberg is the DH.

The infield has hard-hitting Lamar Johnson at first, Jorge Orta at second, Alan Bannister at short and Kevin Soderholm at third and Kevin Bell, the good-looking 1976 rookie third baseman, has recovered from a knee injury. Jim Essian is the No. 1 receiver.

However, pitching is still the major problem.

The Minnesota Twins lost two-thirds of their outfield — RBI champ Larry Hise and Bostock — to free agency. They still have first baseman Rod Carew, baseball's best hitter with a .388 average, and 20-game winner Dave Goltz, but there's a vast rebuilding job to do.

Manager Gene Mauch predicts there will be "enough good hitters on either side of Carew to keep those pitchers honest with him." He names right fielder Dan Ford, catcher Butch Wynegar, shortstop Roy Smalley and third baseman Mike Cabbage, plus lefty DH Glenn Adams. But much depends on whether Bob Gorinski and Willie Norwood can fill the outfield gaps.

The Seattle Mariners finished sixth in their first season, largely because the Oakland A's are in the same division. The Mariners have some punch in outfielders Ruppert Jones and Lee Stanton, first baseman Dan Meyer, third baseman Bill Stein and catcher Bob Stinson and they've added a couple of free agent bats in Bruce Bochte and Bob Robertson.

But the pitching staff is a mass of sore arms.

The A's are still in Oakland, which means the American League still has Charlie Finley to kick around. Center fielder Bill North is the only holdover from the glory days.

There might be some improvement, though, because last year's promising youngsters have a year's experience. The best ones are outfielders Mitchell Page and Tony Armas, third baseman Wayne Gross, shortstop Rob Picciolo and pitchers Rick Langford, Pablo Torrealba and Bob Lacey.

The A's also have veterans in catcher Manny Sanguillen, DH Earl Williams and first baseman Dick Allen. Trade acquisitions Gary Alexander (catcher), Dave Revering (first base) and Gary Thomasson (outfield) should help.

Prediction: 1, Kansas City. 2, Texas. 3, California. 4, Chicago. 5, Oakland. 6, Minnesota. 7, Seattle.

Qualifications Begin

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — Six Hours of Talladega top-10 qualifying begins today. Several teams used Thursday as a special test session at Alabama International Motor Speedway.

Unofficially smashing the lap records for Camel GT cars were two identical turbo-Porsches driven by Peter Gregg and Hurley Haywood, both of Jacksonville, Fla. They turned in speeds of 126.317 miles per hour over the four-mile road course.

Racer Tennis Team Gets Split, Wins At Eastern

The Murray State men's tennis team went to 5-4 on the season by splitting matches Thursday.

In Lexington in an afternoon match, UK handed the Racers a 7-2 loss but in Richmond in an indoor night match, Murray State handled host Eastern Kentucky by the same 7-2 score.

Freshman Ragnar Felix, who plays at number one for the Racers, had the biggest day as he won 7-5, 7-5 over Kentucky's number one player, Scott Smith.

In other singles play against the Wildcats, Chris Leonard lost 1-6, 6-2 and 4-6 at number two to Jack Webb; Roger Berthiaume fell 4-6 and 1-6 at three to Lyndell Pickett; Jan Soegaard lost 0-6, 4-6 at four to Scott Webb; Jeff Leeper won 6-1 and 7-6 at five over John Moneypenny and at number six, Tom Lie lost 4-6, 1-6 to Martin Lashapelle.

Kentucky, which is 12-5 this season, won all three doubles matches in straight sets.

Murray's win over Eastern was important and impressive. Last year, the Racers lost a 5-4 match to the Colonels so again, it shows the Racers have improved.

Ragnar Felix won 6-4 and 6-3 at number one over Eastern's Steve Alger, the defending OVC champion at the second position. In other singles play, Chris Leonard won 7-5 and 6-2 at two over Curt Huerman; Roger Berthiaume won 4-6, 7-6 and 6-2 at three over Don Brisco; Jan Soegaard won 6-2 and 6-3 at four over Rick Vadish; Rick Leeper won 6-0, 6-2 at five over Glen Ragland and at six, Tom Lie lost 3-6 and 3-6 to Bob Landrum.

Murray won two of the three doubles matches.

Felix-Lie lost 6-7 and 1-6 at number one to Alger-Brisco; Leonard-Leeper won 7-6, 5-7 and 6-3 at two over Huerman-Vadish and at three, Soegaard and Mike Costigan won 4-6, 7-5 and 6-2 over Ragland-Landrum.

Murray plays at Indiana State today. The Racers are now 5-4.

Bosox Get Eckersley, Jones Works Distance

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer

The acquisition of Dennis Eckersley has made the Boston Red Sox really believe they can win the American League pennant. The appearance in camp of Vida Blue has convinced the San Francisco Giants there really is a Vida Blue. And a nine-inning performance has made Randy Jones really believe he can pitch again.

Eckersley, a hard-throwing right-hander who won 14 games, including a no-hitter for Cleveland last season, was obtained by the Red Sox Thursday, along with catcher Fred Kendall, from the Indians for pitchers Rick Wise and Mike Paxton, infielder Ted Cox and catcher Bo Diaz.

Blue rejoined the Giants. Blue, a fireballing left-hander, had practiced only one day with the Giants since being obtained from the Oakland A's for seven players March 15. After that, he said he was unhappy with his contract and went to his mother's home in Mansfield, La.

And Jorfes matched his complete game total of last season with a route-going effort as the San Diego Padres beat the California Angels 7-2 in an exhibition game.

The Baltimore Orioles dropped a 3-2 exhibition game to the Atlanta Braves, the winning run scoring on a wild pitch by Scott McGregor.

In other exhibitions: run-scoring singles by Ron Blomberg and Royle Stillman highlighted a three-run seventh-inning that helped the Chicago White Sox edge the New York Yankees 3-2. Detroit's Jim Slaton went eight innings, spacing five hits, for his fourth straight victory as the Tigers defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-1.

Rod Carew, the six-time AL batting champion, drove in three runs with a single and double, while Geoff Zahn and Greg Thayer combined for a six-hitter as the Minnesota Twins blanked the Montreal Expos 4-0. Two-run homers by Dwight Evans, Bernie Carbo and Jack Brohamer backed the four-hit pitching of Bill Lee and Bill Campbell as the Boston Red Sox rocked the New York Mets 8-0.

Jim Mason's run-scoring single in the 10th inning lifted the Texas Rangers to a 6-5 victory over the Kansas City Royals. The Cincinnati Reds got the winning run in the 11th inning when St. Louis reliever Butch Metzger overran Mike Lum's tap toward the mound in topping the Cardinals 5-4.

The San Francisco Giants clubbed five doubles, including a two-run shot by Mario Guerrero, during a five-run third inning en route to a 7-4 triumph over the Cleveland Indians. Al Woods' eighth-inning homer gave the Toronto Blue Jays a 3-2 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies.

And Bill Stein's four hits, Dick Davis' three-run homer and solo homers by Don Money and Lenn Sakata led a 17-hit Milwaukee attack as the Brewers blasted the Seattle Mariners 12-4.

Race Set

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Drivers representing 12 states and Canada are scheduled to race this weekend at Trenton Speedway in the second annual Dog-Leg 200-mile modified stock car championship.

Time trials, scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Saturday, will pare more than 60 entrants to the fastest 40 cars for the $46,000 event. The race is scheduled for Sunday on the 1½-mile track.

Jerry Makara of Westland, Mich., surprised the field last year by winning the event in his first modified stock car race.

Former winners at Trenton in the fall Race of Champions who are entered this weekend include Geoff Bodine, Maynard Troyer, Ray Hendrick, former national driving champion Richie Evans and Fred DeSarro.

'Breds Set School Mark By Scalping Sioux 26-4

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

Al Thompson had quite a workout Thursday afternoon at Reagan Field. In fact, he had such an afternoon, it's likely he'll remember it for the rest of his life.

Thompson may have a sore arm for the next few days as the result of Murray State's marathon baseball game with North Dakota. However, he didn't get the arm problems from pitching.

You see, Thompson, is the scorekeeper for the 'Breds and he put in some overtime as MSU won a 26-4 laughter over the Sioux.

The 26 runs is a new school record. The old mark of 24 came against Louisville in 1973.

The 'Breds nearly walked their way into the record books in a couple of other departments. First of all, North Dakota used six pitchers and they gave up a total of 16 walks. That total is just three shy of the dubious mark set by Chicago Circle.

— Leadoff hitter Al Luigs drew five free passes and that total was just one off a 20-year record held by LaVerne Billinger.

Naturally, if a team scores 26 runs, you'd expect a few homeruns. There were two in the game, to be exact. And believe it or not, both homers came by North Dakota.

Steve Schweigert had a two-run homer deep into centerfield in the second inning off southpaw starter Mark Miller while in the eighth inning, Rod Mayer blasted a two-run shot into rightcenter off Jack Schraw.

Otherwise, the baserunners were zipping around the paths like the electronic baseball machines that eat up quarters in game rooms.

It was good therapy for the 'Breds though. MSU, which had been hitting shots only right at people, continued hitting shots against North Dakota. A lot of them went right at North Dakota and of course, right past them as they made nine errors in the game.

However, a lot of the shots the 'Breds hit were into places like the gaps in leftcenter and rightcenter, over the second-base bag and just out of reach of the shortstop.

In fact, the 'Breds hit so well that over one string, they had five consecutive basehits.

MSU coach Johnny Reagan was also able to experiment a little with his pitching. Miller, who hadn't pitched this season, went four innings and gave up three hits, one of which was a two-run homer. Miller, a graduate of Calloway County High School, got credit for the win.

South Bend native Jack Schraw, plagued with injuries last year, saw his first action on the mound and gave up four hits while also being touched for a two-run, four-bagger. Schraw fanned five batters. The last inning was hurled by Anna, Ill., freshman Kevin Bourland who faced four men in the final inning, walking one and retiring the other three.

Murray scored two in the first as Tom Fehn, continuing his hot hitting, tripled in a run and scored on an error. But the homerun by Schweigert in the second tied the game.

Murray came back with five in the third as Steve Sencibaugh singled in a run, Bill Wagoner drove in two with a double into the gap in left-center, Rob Courtney singled to rightfield for a run and Tony Threatt singled to left for two RBIs.

In the fourth, the 'Breds made it 14-2 with seven more runs with Wagoner driving in a pair with his second double of the game, Courtney singled in a run, Threatt singled for a run and Danny Teel grounded out to score a run. The other runs scored on errors.

The seventh inning was the laughter.

North Dakota gave up just one hit in the frame, a two-run single by Al Luigs.

However, North Dakota gave Murray five walks. The 'Breds used 16 players in the game and oddly enough, all 16 reached base.

Murray improves its mark to 12-7 on the season but the competition will get much tougher today as Brown visits Reagan Field for a pair. Saturday, it will be Mark Wezet and Andy Rice on the hill as the 'Breds open OVC play with two at Western Kentucky.

For baseball fans who have nothing to do Sunday, the 'Breds will be playing at 2:30 p. m. single game with Brown and of course, there is no admission.

Murray will play Brown doubleheaders Monday and Tuesday before playing two at Austin Peay Wednesday.

ANOTHER HIT — Rob Courtney slaps the ball for a basehit. Courtney, having a fine season at third, had two hits and scored two runs as the 'Breds won an easy 26-4 game over North Dakota Thursday.

RBI SINGLE — Steve Sencibaugh keeps his eyes on the ball as it flies off the bat for a run-scoring single. Sencibaugh is a junior college transfer and is a St. Louis native.

Tom Fehn: Batting At 417 Pace Over Season

By Tony Wilson
MSU Sports Publicity

When Tom Fehn strides to the plate, you can be sure something is going to happen — at least 98 percent of the time.

With only 3 strikeouts in 122 at bats over the past two seasons, Fehn, an Evansville, Ind., native, has been Murray State University's most consistent batsman this season as the 'Breds have raced to an 11-7 record.

He's currently hitting at a .417 clip despite playing the difficult role of designated hitter, a position that requires the ability to come off the bench cold and perform with the bat.

"I just try to put the ball in play when I'm hitting," Fehn said modestly during Murray's 2-0 win over Missouri last Wednesday. "I think I'm seeing pitches better than I ever have."

The 5-foot-9 lefthanded hitter displayed some newfound power recently when he blasted a three-run homer in a win over North Dakota. "I think that was the first home run I've ever hit. I don't remember hitting one even in little league ball."

He's proudest, though, of his ability to avoid strikeouts. "I realize that hitting in the No. 3 spot in the lineup requires me to get a piece of the ball." And he's always done it consistently, whiffing only eight times during his entire high-school career.

Fehn hit a potent .324 last season as he played in about half of Murray's games, and Coach Johnny Reagan predicted before the '78 season that he would be one of the toughest outs on the squad.

"He's certainly proven that," Reagan said. "And he seems to be at his best in the most competitive situations."

Spring Practice Opens For Racers

By MIKE BRANDON
Lester & Times Sports Editor

He spoke into a small tape recorder as he strolled from group to group.

Was he a reporter taking notes? Not hardly. Instead, it was Mike Gottfried and he was officially kicking off his first season as head football coach at Murray State University by opening spring practice Thursday.

"I use the tape recorder to make comments and we listen to them when we have our staff meeting after practice," Gottfried said.

Gottfried did an unusual amount of recording information Thursday but of course, that's typical for a first day for a new coach.

The Racers will be working in pads on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

On Tuesday and Thursday, the team will go through the weight program and a tough exercise routine and of course, those two days will also be rain dates.

Under NCAA rules, a team is allowed 20 practice sessions in the spring. The spring practice will conclude with the spring game which will be played at 7:30 p. m. May 4.

When Gottfried took over at MSU, there were three players who could bench press 300 pounds and now there are 15. It's hoped that by summer, there will be 35 bench pressing 300 pounds.

Besides the weight program, the exercise has been extremely tough and three weeks ago, the mention of "Big 15" brought shudders from the players. But now, even the Big 15 is on the verge of being conquered.

What exactly is the Big 15?

If you'd like to try it, lie upon the floor and recline on your back. Then do 15 sit-ups. Next, turn over and rest on your tummy for a second or two and do 15 push-ups. Now, back on your back and do 14 sit-ups then roll over on the tummy again and do 14 push-ups. Then do 13 of each, 12 of each, all the way down to one.

When you've finished, you will have done 120 of each. But of course, you must lift weights for an hour before attempting the exercise then after you've finished the Big 15, you must run speed and agility drills.

As of now, Gottfried has 85 players out for the squad.

"As for the first day of our spring practice, it was typical of all first sessions. We had a lot of mistakes and people were easing into things because everything's new to them. We have to learn to crawl before we can walk.

"The little bit of hitting we done wasn't as intense as it will be in a week or so when we do a little more hitting. I saw some strengths and also I saw a lot of weaknesses.

"The area that needs closest attention is the offensive line. We'll be spending a lot of time on fundamentals and trying to get an offensive line together. Defensively, we have depth but the noseguard position needs some more work. Although Chris Robbins had a great day," Gottfried said.

Robbins, who will be a sophomore, was moved from tight end.

"We were also very pleased with the defensive tackle Bruce Martin for his first day and offensively, wide receiver Jeff Braaten looked good. We were also pleasantly surprised with Lindsey Hudspeth. He needs to progress a little more.

"We're not going to put a lot of emphasis on a lot of plays. We only ran three plays at the defense today and we'll run only one defense against the offense.

"The tailback position may be the strength of the team. Right now, I'd say we're three or four deep. We're also surprised that Mike Dickens was able to go at quarterback.

"He never really fully recovered from his ankle injury from last year and there was some doubt as to whether he'd be able to practice with us this spring," Gottfried said.

Gottfried said there are several things he'll be looking for over the next few days.

"First of all, we're looking for more intensity out of our kids. Secondly, a sense of urgency. The sense of urgency during the season is the next game but in practice, it's going to be who is going to beat who for a starting position.

"Thirdly, we're looking for our players to get more familiar with their positions and play by freelancing. They have to know their coaches and be able to feel their coaches and know what's expected of them.

"The first day of practice is like a big balloon. When you let all the air out of it the balloon gets loose and flies all over the place. But we'll settle down.

"There's no substitute for confidence and experience and each day, we should grow in both areas. Spring practice, with a coaching change, is like learning to drive a car.

"When you start, you put both hands on the wheel and your tense. But 20 days from now, we'll be driving with one hand and confidence," Gottfried added.

GIVING INSTRUCTIONS — Racer head coach Mike Gottfried gives instructions to the offense as they prepare to run a play. Gottfried is in his first year as the Racer coach.

ON TARGET — Mike Dickens, who was doubtful for spring practice, showed up for the bell Thursday and goes through one of the quarterback drills here. Dickens was injured last season but has recovered enough to make the spring practice.

Laker Girls Open Track Season, Lose Dual Meet

Spring sports at Calloway County High School opened Thursday as the Laker girls' track team lost a 77-42 dual meet at Christian County to the powerful Colonels.

The Lakers had one relay team to win and after that, it was all Felicia Pinner as the senior All-American won three events.

Pinner won the 100-yard dash in 11.3 then took the 220-yard dash in 26.7. In the 440-yard dash, Pinner had some competition but won with a 63.6 while teammate Ellen Mahan was second in 64.6.

The Laker mile-relay team recorded a 4:52.0 for first. Running the legs were Mahan, Rose Ross, Melissa Miller and Pinner.

In other track events, Miller was third in the 880 with a 3:00 while in the mile-run, Ross was third in 6:38. Ross earned two places in the hurdles. She was second in the 60-yard hurdles in 9.4 while in the 110-yard hurdles, she was second in 16.4. In both of the hurdling events, Miller was third. She had 9.6 in the 60-yard hurdles and a 17.2 in the 110-yard hurdles.

In the field events, Mina Todd earned three places while Stephanie Wyatt placed in two events.

Todd was second with 32-7 1/2 in the shot put and Wyatt was third with a 31-6. In the discus, Wyatt was third in an effort of 84-10 1/2. Todd cleared 44 for second in the high jump while going 14-9 for third in the long jump.

The Lakers, who have no home facility, are using the facilities at Stewart Stadium. Both the Laker boys' and girls' teams arrive for practice at 6:30 a.m. each morning.

"Of course MSU uses the facility after school and we're quite fortunate to be able to use it and our kids are able to go home after school so they don't really mind the early practice time that much. We'd certainly like to thank Murray State for letting us use the facility," said Laker girls' coach Sue Outland.

The Laker girls and boys will be running Saturday in the Paducah Triathlon Invitational.

Tuesday, both teams are at Mayfield.

GOLF
RANCHO MIRAGE, Calif.
— Sandra Post shot a 7-under-par 65, a Mission Hills Country Club women's competitive course record, to move into the lead in the $305,000 Dinah Shore Winners Circle golf tournament.

Post, a 29-year-old native of Canada, chipped five strokes off par on the front nine, then sank two more birdie putts on the back to take a 3-stroke lead over Hollis Stacy.

Her round bettered the Mission Hills record by a stroke.

Lee Comes To Aid Of Joe B. Hall

By CHARLES WOLFE
Associated Press Writer
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) —

In the wake of reports criticizing Kentucky Coach Joe Hall's alleged obsession with winning basketball games, senior James Lee came off the bench again, this time in defense of his coach.

"They (sports writers) are gonna write it the way they want it, but I don't think they ought to write like that about someone they don't know," said Lee, a muscular forward who became something of a celebrity as the Wildcats' sixth man.

Some writers accused Hall of ruining the game for his players by attaching life-and-death significance to winning, while berating players for mistakes on the court.

"It's not a personal thing," said Lee of the coach's criticism. "He's doing it to help us out and correct us. It's part of his job to correct us when we make mistakes."

After Kentucky defeated Duke 94-88 for the NCAA championship Monday night, one writer said the players, instead of being happy they won, appeared relieved because they didn't lose.

"People are always gonna throw that in there, but we felt real good about the victory," said Lee, who ended the scoring with a resounding dunk shot from the left side.

"It (the championship) was one of the things that was expected of us and we knew we could do it," he said. "You don't want to go out there and lose and it's always a relief when you win the championship."

Hall began addressing his critics Tuesday upon the team's return to Lexington and brought cheers from an estimated 13,000 fans at a welcoming celebration in Memorial Coliseum.

"The sports media in St. Louis questioned us on whether we have fun," Hall said. "Notre Dame (which finished fourth) had fun in St. Louis. I was a Kentucky fan before I was a coach and I wouldn't have tolerated a team representing my state that wanted to have fun instead of winning."

Hall followed up his remarks Wednesday night on a radio talk show broadcast around the state.

"My question is, if it isn't serious, then why are these people writing about it like this? Why are they taking it so seriously?" he said. "I have a job to do. I'm expected to produce and I have to take my job seriously. Maybe that's old fashioned, but I think everyone should be serious about their job."

The Meaning of Grief

Even good Christians wonder why God allows us to suffer. Without pain and suffering, we would not be fully human. We would be like puppets incapable of feeling any emotion. God offers us the full range of feeling from great joy to the deepest suffering, as Michaelangelo so beautifully expressed it in his statue of the Pietà. Grief is the process that God has given man to bear the unbearable. Through this process we come to understand and accept the tragedies of life. With God's help, grief becomes a way of healing our emotional wounds.

When you are in great pain or sorrow, turn to God. He will help you.

KET To Air

Series On

Arabs, Israelis

"Arabs and Israelis," a five-part series exploring the problems and promises of the Mideast, begins Friday, April 14 at 10 p.m. (ET), 9 p.m. (CT) on KET, The Kentucky Network.

Despite Egyptian president Anwar Sadat's peace initiative and other events of the past few months, the issues raised and the perception voiced in this series, filmed during late 1974, are as valid today as when the programs first aired in 1975. Each segment is introduced and updated by Marilyn Berger, a former Mideast correspondent.

In the first program, "Two Families," bereaved families from Syria and Israel explain that they are saddened, but not embittered by their son's deaths during the Yom Kippur War (October, 1973); and that they are able to share and understand the grief of families whose sons fought on the other side.

The second segment, "The Golan," deals with the differing perceptions of Syrians and Israelis about the territory and security of the Golan Heights. The Palestinian issue at the heart of the Mideast dispute is explored at length in "The Palestinian Question" (Parts I and II), and "Jerusalem," the fifth and final segment, examines the dispute over the sovereignty of Jerusalem.

'Vietnam - Picking

Up The Pieces'

Is KET Special

"Vietnam: Picking Up The Pieces" brings KET viewers a rare, videotaped glimpse of a nation that has been largely hidden from us since the withdrawal of American ground troops from southeast Asia. The documentary airs on The Kentucky Network on Tuesday, April 11 at 9 p.m. (ET), 8 p.m. (CT). The program is repeated on Saturday, April 15 at 8 p.m. (ET), 7 p.m. (CT).

Jon Alpert, Keiko Tsuno and Karen Ranucci, who recently returned from Vietnam, were the first American television journalists to visit many of the cities and places whose names became familiar during the Vietnamese War. Their interviews with people who underwent American bombing provided insight into the lives of a people who are rebuilding and re-adjusting.

Oscar Wilde's comedy "The Importance of Being Earnest" was first performed in London in 1895.

The English dramatist and satirist John Galsworthy, born in 1867, set out to study law at Oxford University and eventually turned to the writing of drama in 1899. After writing a number of satirical comedies, he suddenly gave up the stage in 1916 and went into the Church, where he spent most of the remainder of his life as a country vicar.

Dear Discerning Shoppers,
I visited the

BLACKFORD HOUSE

yesterday and found jonquils in bloom and all winter clothes gone. If you are getting ready to pack away your winter clothes I learned something that might be of interest.

Marigold, from the shop's potpourri mixtures is especially good to place in the pockets of clothes in storage to keep away moths.

For your spring and summer wardrobe, the shop has a new shipment of several styles of jeans, including Lee and Male. There are blue, khaki, brown and white jeans. To go with these they have knit shirts in several colors priced at $10.50.

The shop also has, in a variety of styles and colors, Van Heusen Baracuta half sleeve shirts, priced at $12.50. These will look excellent with jeans, with dress pants, or with your summer suits.

While I was there I bought my husband one of the shirts and a pair of white jeans. He will look "spiffy" in these having brunch at Clarence Foster's in Atlanta next Sunday. If you go to Atlanta, do find time to eat there. The dress is casual, and the food is excellent. Because I have been there before, I already know what I am going to order — I have forgotten the name, but it is a mixture of chicken and cream sauce served in a patty shell, topped with poached eggs, along with two cups of the best coffee in Atlanta. Before I eat this I am going to have one of their drinks, again I have forgotten the name, but it is a red drink, spiked with hot sauce, and served with a stalk of celery.

To compliment his jeans and shirt I bought a gold chain and a silver chain. Although my husband wears very little jewelry, I think he will like these. I think you will like them too so go on out to the shop and take a look. These chains are for guys and girls.

Since we are going to Atlanta to attend the wedding of one of my daughter's friends, I selected a gift from all of us, for the bride which consist of the following: a ten inch skillet, a one quart covered sauce pan, a two quart covered sauce pan, and a three quart covered dutch oven. This is Country Collection by Magnalite and is mirror-bright with fine wood handles, and the complete set cost only $149.95.

When you read this Easter will be over until next year and I hope each of you had a nice one. While I was in the shop yesterday I learned of some people who had some enjoyable moments. It seems that the shop sponsored an Easter egg decorating contest, and prizes were awarded to: First prize - Dominic Strohlein; Second prize - Jill Thompson; Third prize - Tina Olson.

Then some of the employees, with one of them dressed as an Easter bunny, took the decorated eggs to the Special Education Department of M. S. U. and had an Easter Egg Hunt for the children. From all reports a fine and fun time was enjoyed by all — including the Blackford House employees. They also asked me to thank all of you who participated in this contest. It was, they said, a rewarding experience.

I wish for each of you a happy and profitable spring shopping days, and I urge you not to forget the quality bargains which are to be found at the Blackford House.

Sincerely,
G. BRIFELLE

P. S. Beginning April 3rd the shop will be open from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m.

USCG Auxiliary Flotilla Talks Survival First Aid

USCG Auxiliary Flotilla 27-5 met at the Ellis Community Center in March with Richard Farrell, Flotilla Commander presiding. A slide film on Hypothermia with emphasis on cold water survival was presented by Neale Mason, FSO-PE.

Increasing awareness of hypothermia and providing information useful to the average outdoorsman was its purpose. A few degrees variation from 98.6 deg. F. indicates a person is sick - an elevated temperature indicates a fever, a lowered temperature indicates hypothermia.

When a person becomes hypothermic, he will have a blue gray coloration with bluish lips because the body shuts down the blood vessels close to the surface of the skin in an effort to conserve body heat. Breathing may be slow and labored, movements stiff and uncoordinated. The ability to use hands and feet are drastically reduced or lost.

Hypothermia may be chronic or acute. Chronic hypothermia is generally exposure to cold weather for a time varying from a few hours to several days. Acute hypothermia is usually caused by immersion in cold water.

In water temperatures of less than 74 deg. F an average person may develop hypothermia in as little as 10 to 15 minutes or several hours. Wind and water conditions, the shock of sudden immersion, the clothing worn and behavior of the victim will determine the length of time before acute hypothermia takes effect.

In acute hypothermia, children cool faster than adults, men cool faster than women, and thin people cool faster than fat people. Victims wearing a Personal Flotation Device will survive longer.

Remaining still and assuming the fetal or heat escape lessening posture (HELP) will increase survival time. Keeping the head out of water increases survival time since 50 per cent of the body heat is lost from the head. Other areas of high heat loss are the neck, the sides, and the groin. Several people in the water will benefit from the huddle or circle to preserve body heat.

Emergency first aid may revive a victim appearing lifeless. Removal of wet clothing, applying heat to the central core of the body and warming the areas of high heat loss with warm moist towels may revive a victim. In cases of mild hypothermia dry clothing and shelter may be all that is needed before the victim appears normal. However, all hypothermia victims should be seen by a doctor.

The USCG Auxiliary is a civilian component of the United States Coast Guard dedicated to promoting recreational boating safety. The local flotilla meets monthly on the first Friday evening at the Ellis Community Center. Interested persons are invited to attend meetings.

Health Agency Okays Child Health Plan

LOUISVILLE — The first draft of a plan aimed at reducing the high number of infant deaths in western Kentucky was approved Friday by the Board of Directors of Kentucky Health Systems Agency - West.

The proposed Maternal and Child Health Plan includes three ways to reduce infant mortality: family planning, prenatal care and special neonatal care.

High risk cases can be identified during family planning and prenatal care. These two parts of the plan are preventive measures.

Special neonatal services are needed when high risk births cannot be avoided. The plan recommends ways to make these services more accessible to all citizens in western Kentucky.

The plan also includes ways to make support services such as reimbursement, transportation and health education more available in this area.

In other action the KHS-A Board approved a proposal from the Senior Citizen Nursing Home in Madisonville to convert 28 skilled nursing beds to intermediate care beds. This decision could affect many long-stay facilities in western Kentucky. Currently beds in nursing

The Indian fish species known as Anabas scandens is commonly called the "climbing fish" because it can leave pools that are drying up and travel on land, due to its ability to retain water in its gills. When there is dew on the ground at night, this fresh-water fish often leaves the water for the land.

Overture, Romanitc Symphony To Highlight MSU Concert

An overture from an opera and a rather unfamiliar romantic symphony, along with two works featuring instrumental solos, will make up the spring concert to be presented by the Murray State University Symphony Orchestra on Thursday evening, April 6.

Scheduled to begin at 8:15 p.m. in Lovett Auditorium on the campus, the program is open to the public at no charge. Neale B. Mason, professor of music at Murray State, is the conductor of the 60-piece orchestra.

"Soloist for the evening will be two senior woodwind majors—Joyce Feibelman of Fort Pierce, Fla., oboist, and Rita Reasons Pawlowski of Dyersburg, Tenn., clarinetist.

Miss Feibelman will join the string section of the orchestra in a performance of the miniature tone poem, "The Winter's Passed," by the noted American composer, Wayne Barlow, a teacher at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. Pawlowski will perform the first movement of Mozart's "Clarinet Concerto in A Major," a landmark in the literature written for the clarinet.

The orchestra will begin its concert with the overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor" opera by Otto Nicolai, who was the founder and first conductor of the historic Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra. According to Mason, the opera is Nicolai's only surviving work, but "the gay, picturesque music shows a very skilled composer as its creator."

Dvorak's "Symphony No. 4 in G Major," the other work for the evening, may surprise listeners because of its difference from his early symphonies and the "New World Symphony" which follows it, Mason noted.

"The Czech spirit of the composer is perhaps reflected in its shifting moods of darkness and light, but it is basically absolute music with no story to tell," he said. "Its charm and excitement lie not in its profundity, but in its natural, almost naive musical content."

Mason said the orchestra, which is one of the university's major performing organizations, is dedicated to presenting the best of orchestral literature for the benefit of the campus, the community, and the area.

...THE NEWS IN BRIEF...

By The Associated Press NATIONAL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 37-year-old maintenance man has been booked for investigation of murder in two of the 13 Hillside Strangler slayings after his childhood friend told police he watched while the man killed three women.

"It is a major break," said Police Chief Daryl Gates, "and we're very hopeful that it will successfully conclude at least those two and perhaps more" of the strangulation slayings in which the bodies of female victims were dumped onto roads and hillsides.

Police arrested Peter Mark Jones, 37, on Thursday at his apartment. Neither he nor his friend, George Shamshak, has been charged.

Shamshak, 27, now being held at a California prison, reportedly told police about Jones and the killings when questioned in February at Walpole State Prison in Massachusetts.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Volkswagen Rabbit provides the best fuel economy with a 40 miles per gallon city performance and 53 mpg on the highway, the Environmental Protection Agency says.

The EPA said in its final listing of gasoline mileage figures for 1978 that the Honda Civic, which was rated No. 1 in 1977, dropped to second at 36 mpg in city driving and 44 mpg on the highway.

The list probably will be the last in its present form. The EPA is studying new procedures to rank autos because the agency and its critics agree the mileage figures do not reflect actual driving conditions.

INTERNATIONAL RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — President Carter is concluding his visit to Latin America by meeting with Brazilian champions of human rights who are critics of the military government. The move is not expected to please his official hosts.

Pleasant Grove To Hear Dr. Mullins

The South Pleasant Grove United Methodist Church will hear the pastor, the Rev. Dr. William P. Mullins, Jr., speak on the subject, "The Infallible Evidence" with scripture from Luke 24:13-32 at the 10:45 a.m. service on Sunday, April 2.

"Peace Be Still" will be the selection by the church choir, directed by Mrs. L. D. Cook, Jr., with Mrs. Otto Erwin as organist and Tommy Gaines as pianist.

Nursery workers will be Nancy and Hope Simpson. At the six p.m. worship service, Dr. Mullins will speak on the subject, "Amos." Sunday School will be at 9:45 a.m., Administrative Board and Youth Choir practice at four p.m., Children and Adult Choir practice at five p.m., and United Methodist Young Fellowship meeting at 6:45 p.m. all on Sunday.

Roman Catholic cardinals, were invited to spend a half hour exchanging views with the president before his departure today for Nigeria. There he will be the first American president to make a state visit to black Africa.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Defense Minister Ezer Weizman flew back to Israel today, and Cairo Radio said he and President Anwar Sadat made no progress toward resumption of peace negotiations between Egypt and Israel.

The broadcast said Sadat was writing President Carter about the meeting Thursday, his first with an Israeli official in two months.

An Egyptian foreign ministry spokesman said Weizman's visit did not mean resumption of "back-and-forth negotiations," but that Egypt was giving the Israeli government a chance, "maybe the last chance, to prove that it is changing its attitude."

ROME (AP) — The Italian government will not ransom kidnapped political leader Aldo Moro by freeing 15 Red Brigades terrorists on trial in Turin, the Christian Democratic Party says.

"It is not possible to accept the blackmail coming from the Red Brigades," the government party — of which Moro is president — said in response to a letter from Moro in which he hinted that freedom for the terrorists would be the price for his release.

First Church Panel Program Planned Sunday

"World Hunger Issues" will be the title of the panel presentations and questions and answers session slated for the vesper service at the First Christian Church on Sunday, April 2, from 6:30 to eight p.m. with the church pastor, the Rev. David C. Roos, serving as the moderator.

Panel participants will include Dr. John Mikulcik, professor of agriculture, Murray State University; the Rev. Robert E. Farless, associate minister of the First United Methodist Church; Dr. Gil Mathis, professor of economics at MSU, and the Rev. Robert Brockoff, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Each participant will make opening presentations speaking from their respective disciplines to the topic of world hunger, and will field questions from the audience.
